High speed internet would be nice. The line is 1000 feet from my house and Windstream refuses to run a line there.	8/21/2019 6:17 PM
7	The tobacco education needs to start in elementary school, usually with some kind of a D.A.R.E. program. More information on negativity of tobacco use. Especially how hard it is to stop, and in H.Scool teaching the negativity of smoking while pregnant and the harmful things that can happen to the baby inutero, and the lasting effects on the baby once they are born.	8/20/2019 11:44 PM
8	High speed internet is something the entire county needs in order to retain and develop employees, programs and jobs. We have to keep up with our neighboring cities if we are going to keep our community intact and developed. Working from home, access to information and technology are becoming a given not an after thought. We need to be a leader in getting technology for everyone and we will see things lead in other directions.	8/20/2019 10:28 AM

15	Been in this county for 20 years and am witnessing improvements to recreation opportunities for young and old. Roads, however, lack safe shoulders, line markings still. More signs seem almost annoying. Littering is a real eyesore. Trash including furniture and appliances are being dumped along the roadway adding to drainage problems. Grass cutting into the roads and onto the sidewalks goes unchallenged and poses safety issues with motorcycles and bicycles and is unfriendly for pedestrians to have to walk through. Internet access is very slow. Priority is given to businesses, but home businesses would benefit, too. Job opportunity is a mixed bag - if one is willing to take a low paying job without benefits, there are jobs to be hand in the county. As a senior, my income working two part-time jobs without collecting Social Security is less than $20K a year with mutual funds investments. Poverty level. Young workers are forced to work out of the county in order to earn a family supporting income. That is not nessarily a bad thing, but this is not a Colorado Springs either. There are trade offs.	8/2/2019 2:47 PM

2 Harrison co. May need mental health stuff and drug rehabs but NOT by our SCHOOLS. Put them over by the hospital. Why in the same hell would you put these places by our schools. That's crazy. 8/1/2019 10:15 AM 3 I held the same job in Harrison County for a number of years for a company that served multiplied needs in the community and worked with other local agencies. I do know there is still much that needs done but resources are seemingly limited and dollars to provide the services harder and harder to come by. I feel our community, being rural, makes it difficult to get people TO the resources they needs although I know there is a transportation service available in the area. I think a lot of people don't know what is available and the ones who really need it sometimes won't take it. I'd be happy to see more people taking pride in themselves and working again. I'm afraid it will lead to worse things. It is a real problem although kids don't see it that way but it is worth educating our kids in schools every year about it. It is such a real epidemic and I have had this encounter with my kids who have gotten it in the past from someone but won't tell who and I have never smoked in my life let alone ever of dreamed that I would have to deal with this problem with my kids. On another note as far as mental health goes maybe a clinic of sorts could be developed for those not only to discuss those types of problems in a therapeutic environment but also some activities to promote a positive one. One in which maybe a poll could be taken to see what activities may promote a happy and healthy environment such as life games, gardening and delivering the produce to say maybe those that serve seniors, etc. Something that may for ex. give someone with depression a	8/1/2019 11:55 AM
